

BEN GLOSSOP

Ben Glossop is an extra bassoon player with the National Arts Center Orchestra as well as bassoonist with the Kingston Symphony and the Ottawa Symphony. He has worked with the Lotus Centre for a number of years and describes it as a rewarding experience and a lot of fun. Ben's advice for teaching music to people with special needs is the ability to to always say 'yes' in a situation with the children as the best place to start.