

MARIE BOUCHARD

Marie Bouchard, harpsichordist and organist. Well-established in the Baroque music world, Marie leads an active performing career as a chamber and orchestral musician, accompanist and soloist. She regularly collaborates with the Ottawa Baroque Consort, Thirteen Strings, Seventeen Voyces, Symphony Nova Scotia, and Sacabuche! Her career path included concerts with the MSO, Les Violons du Roy, SMAM and Tafelmusik. Marie has recorded with Les Boréades, Les Voix Baroques, Aradia, the Ottawa Bach Choir, Tempest and Thirteen Strings. A project dear to her heart is the Sacabuche! recording: How Do We Listen? As a pedagogue, Marie is very involved in teaching harpsichord, organ, piano, accompaniment, chamber music and Kindermusik. As guest teacher in conservatories and universities, she happily shares her expertise of Baroque music with students of all ages and skill levels. With Ontario's Concerts in Care, Marie plans to share more concerts in senior residences. Music is vital! Marie's summers usually include camping in the woods and participating in festivals such as Music and Beyond, the Ottawa Chamber Music Festival and Boxwood, Nova Scotia. Marie had plans for a raucous harpsichord extravaganza in May. Fate decided otherwise, and Halifax' Inner Space Concerts are now broadcast On-a-Cloud.
